

We are developing an inhouse application which need annual leave data of each employees from sap database. What we are proposing is a simple one-way database synchronization (i.e. from your database to ours) every one day.

When you are sure that you can do what we asked we will list out and send you which columns we will be needing.